

FRENCH

PRACTICALLY DECLARE WAR ON TURKEY.

SULTAN MUST COME DOWN WITH THE CASH.

A FRENCH FLEET HAS SAILED

And Will Seize One of Turkey's Ports —The Vessels Leave Under Sealed Orders.

Paris, Oct. 31.—The government publicly admits today that if Turkey does not come down with the cash, it will seize one of her ports and four armored cruisers and two torpedo destroyers are now on the way to do it. The island of Mitylenein, Grecian archipelago, is said to be the destination of the fleet. It amounts to a French declaration of war against Turkey.

SAILED

Under Sealed Orders—An Official Note Was Issued Thursday at Paris—To Turkey.

Paris, Oct. 31.—(Bulletin.)—An official note issued today states that orders have been issued to detach a division of the Mediterranean squadron for a special mission. Sealed orders it is announced, have been handed to Admiral Caillard, who will command the division which he is instructed to open in three days. The newspapers, which had got previous information regarding the movement, announced this morning that the French warships were to go to Turkey to enforce the French claims against that country.

WITH CORRONI

WEALTHY, PRETTY SCULPTRESS FELL IN LOVE.

Brought Him to America and Secured Position for Young Man—They Will Be Married.

Akron, O., Oct. 31.—Mrs. Maude Nees Fox, daughter of the late W. H. Nees, and possessed of good looks, $100,000 and some fame as a sculptress, has gone to Washington, accompanied by Dominick Corroni, whom she will marry in that city. Mrs. Fox spent last year in Italy pursuing her art studies. Corroni was employed at the house where she lived.

His ambition to go to America won Mrs. Fox's attention, and she paid his passage to her home in Uniontown, this country, where she secured work for him on the Canton-Akron electric railway. He was very grateful, and their attachment ripened to love. Mrs. Fox secured a divorce from her husband, Louis Fox, well known on the vaudeville stage as a bird and animal imitator, a short time ago.

She is 30 years old, and was first married seven years ago. Corroni is 25 years old, has some education and a fine physique. Their wedding takes place in Washington in order that certain formalities may be attended to by the Italian Minister to make the marriage binding in Italy. They will return to Uniontown, where Mrs. Fox has a fine home.

TRIED TO KILL HIMSELF.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 31.—Albert Schroth, former bookkeeper at the First National bank of Birmingham, South Side, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary today. He collapsed in court and then made a sensational statement that others had guilty knowledge of his peculations. When lead away he tried to kill himself by leaping over the railing into the airway, 40 feet below, but was caught in time.

FIRE FIGHTING

Kept the Chicago Firemen Busy This Morning—Several Disastrous Blazes—Firemen Were Burned.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—While squads of firemen were still combating a yet fiercely burning $250,000 fire in Milwaukee avenue, the department was called on to fight two other disastrous blazes this morning. In the first of them, five firemen were severely burned. The first of the smaller fires destroyed the three story brick cooperage shop of John Johnson in North Carpenter street; loss, $50,000. The families in the cottages in front of the burning building had a narrow escape. The five story brick building at 141-143 Ontario street was destroyed by fire early this morning; loss, $60,000.

INSANE

STUDENT RAVED WHILE DEFENDING THE OFFICERS.

Seige Maintained for Several Days—Young Man Imagined His Friends Were Spaniards.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Overstudy and excessive use of drugs, together with the results of Cuban fever, are supposed to have affected the mind of Henry C. Hagaman, son of Judge H. C. Hagaman of Clinton, Ala., a student of the University of Chicago. With two army revolvers, a cavalry saber and two Indian clubs Hagaman has held the students' boarding house district of the university in terror for four days.

Hagaman, who is 21 years of age, was instrumental in organizing the Second Alabama regiment. He became an officer in the regiment, and afterward was identified with the field staffs in the active zeids of Cuba. Here the young man contracted Cuban fever. This year he entered the University of Chicago.

Several days ago it was noticed that Hagaman was apparently not acting rationally, and three days ago he drove his roommate from the house and since then has terrorized the neighborhood with his weapons and words. Several classmates of the young man attempted to approach him, but all were driven off by flourishing of weapons. The police were called upon and went to the scene. A crowd of students were congregated outside.

"You are watching me; run for your life," was the shout that greeted them.

Glancing up they saw a wild-eyed young man with disheveled hair, attired in a bath robe, armed with two large revolvers, while a saber was strapped to his side. He was apparently possessed of an illusion, believing the passersby were Spaniards, and yelled to them in defiance. The officers, after a vigorous fight, subdued Hagaman, who became delirious and was forcibly held in bed.

Judge Hagaman was telegraphed to come to Chicago, and will probably hurry to this city to care for his son.

Two revolvers, a sword, a dagger, Indian clubs, dumbbells and a bottle of acid, all "my weapons of defense," as Hagaman expressed it, were taken in charge of by the police. A committee of classmates promised the police to care for their friend until his father arrived.

SOBERED

By the Realization of What He Had Done, Harvey Then Killed Himself.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Thomas J. Harvey, a boarder at W. J. McLaughlin's hotel, attempted to shoot Mr. McLaughlin at 11 o'clock last night. The bullet went wide of its mark and struck Chas. Brave, an Indian, who was standing near, in the hand. After firing the shot Harvey ran to the rear of the hotel and shot himself in the head. He was intoxicated and it is believed that Harvey thought he had killed McLaughlin and, sobered by the realization of what it meant, he shot himself. He died just after midnight.

COMPLETED AND WITNESSES IN REBUTTAL ARE CALLED.

Dewey Would Not Permit Lemly to Introduce Ward Room Gossip as Evidence.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 31.—The presentation of Admiral Schley's side of the case was completed in the court of inquiry this morning. When it had concluded Captain Lemly produced an array of witnesses in rebuttal.

Lemly and Raynor spent a good part of this morning trying to settle whether in rebuttal new testimony could be involved. Lemly wants to get some of the gossip of ward rooms in the case but Raynor has strenuously objected, and says if it is admitted as evidence no one's reputation will be safe. Raynor's objection was sustained by Admiral Dewey, who said: "This court has been in ward rooms and it knows how wild and foolish the talk there is and how it differs from what the same men would say in the cabin."

Captain Lemly asked 1,217 questions in his cross-examination of Admiral Schley. He began Monday morning and ended Wednesday afternoon. He covered all the ground from the formation of the flying squadron at Hampton Roads to the last letter of the Schley-Hodgson correspondence which took place after the war. Schley was on the stand eleven hours under the fire of Lemly's questions. He was calm and courteous throughout but toward the end he became very much fatigued. Capt. Lemly in his questions reviewed every detail of Schley's direct testimony. Every maneuver was questioned and asked for the reason that influenced Schley in all his actions. The result of it all was a number of contradictions between Schley's narrative, the testimony of other witnesses and the official records. Whether any of these will be regarded as of importance by the court it is of course impossible to say. There are now in records of the inquiry several explanations both for the retrograde movement, the battle loop and the reconnaissance of May 31. Schley however, expressed the opinion several times during the cross examination that the completeness of the victory of July 3 proved that no serious mistakes had been made in the preliminary campaign.

Schley had testified that during the battle the Brooklyn had signalled to the others of the fleet to "clear ship for action" and "follow the flag." The purpose, of course, was to show that he was in command during the battle. In an attempt to minimize the importance of these signals, Captain Lemly suggested there was nothing for the American ships to do but to follow the fleeing Spaniards. Schley agreed with him. Lemly got Schley to say that the loop was the most brilliant maneuver of the battle and then to admit that it was ordered by Cook. Schley added however, that he was responsible for it.

It is an interesting fact that none of the questions asked by the court related to the Brooklyn's loop or any other feature of the battle. Three points upon which the court sought light, despite the two days of direct and three days of cross examination, were, Schley's delay in leaving Cienfuegos for Santiago, the retrograde movement and the reconnaissance of (Continued on Page 5.)

MOB

QUIETLY LYNCHED A NEGRO THIS MORNING

EASTERS STRUNG UP AT COURT HOUSE STEPS.

THE CITIZENS OF THE TOWN

Were Ignorant of Mob's Presence Till Negro Was in Its Clutches—Kentucky Affair.

Hodgensville, Ky., Oct. 31.—A mob of 50 or 75 determined citizens about 2 o'clock this morning took from the jail Silas Easters, a negro charged with a revolting crime and strung him to the court house steps.

The mob was headed by young Ward, the victim of the negro and his father. So quietly and systematically did the mob go about its work that the citizens of the town were in ignorance of the existence of a mob until the negro was in its clutches. The citizens composing the lynching party approached the jail and upon their demand the keys were surrendered to them. The cell in which the negro was confined was entered and the noose was adjusted around his neck. He was dragged down the jail stairs and into the street, when the victim of the mob's rage slipped the noose from his neck and made a break for liberty. The mob made after the negro, howling and firing off their guns and pistols. The negro fell when about one hundred yards from the jail fiddled with bullets.

The noose was again placed about his neck and he was dragged to the court house and swung to the top-most steps.

DOWNFALL

OF A MAN WHO WAS USED TO LUXURY.

Drew $20,000 a Year Twenty Years Ago—Now Aged 63 and a Prisoner.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—In Pullman 20 years ago, the most talked of man was he general superintendent of the immense palace car works. His distinction grew out of his fondness for the luxuries and pomp of a perfectly appointed home.

At the factory Frank Bradley was he alert, hard-headed man of business.

At home he was a bibliophile whose salary of $20,000 a year was spent to be utmost farthing in the purchase of editions de luxe for the finest library in the city and in the maintenance of a retinue of liveried servants, comprising, as was his boast, every nationality.

Twenty years passed and Pullman had lost sight of Frank Bradley. A gray old man, with the pallid mark of the prison on his face, tremulously fingered a close cropped beard as he sat in court Wednesday and listened to testimony that branded him as a pickpocket. The testimony satisfied the judge of the prisoner's guilt. The presence of officers from the Michigan pen, to take the old man back to serve an unfinished term strengthened the case against him. Bradley was released in order that the Michigan officers might take him back to prison.

Bradley is 63 years old and since he was deposed by the Pullman company has served in two penitentiaries. Bradley's downfall is directly traceable to the extravagance of his tastes. He served a term in Joliet for embezzlement and was sentenced to the Jackson, Michigan, penitentiary from Detroit for forgery.

MISS STONE

Is Living and Communication With Brigands Has Been Established—Authoritatively Stated.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Negotiations for the release of Miss Stone from the brigands are going on vigorously. The report that she is dead is authoritative denied today. Communication with the brigands has been established and it is reasonably certain that she will soon be released.

TWO EARS

OFFERED THE DOCTOR BY TWO CHICAGO PEOPLE.

But Scientist Is Afraid to Cut Them Off Because of Liability to Prosecution for Mayhem.

Wednesday's Advocate published a dispatch sent from Chicago announcing that Dr. E. E. Prescott wanted to buy two good ears to graft upon a patient, offering to pay $300 per ear. The doctor has succeeded in finding two men each of whom is willing to part with an ear for the consideration named, but now the doctor is afraid to accept their offer for fear of liability to prosecution. Here is the story as telegraphed to Thursday morning's Cincinnati Enquirer from Chicago.

Dr. Elmer E. Prescott, the skin-grafting specialist, found two men in Chicago Wednesday, each of whom signified a willingness to part with one ear for a consideration of $300.

Two human ears are necessary for an unusual operation the physician hopes to perform, and he considers that the greatest difficulty was surmounted when he found it possible to obtain the ears. Obstacles in the nature of criminal responsibility, however, presented themselves to Dr. Prescott.

Justice Blume informed him that if he severed a healthy ear from the head of any person knowing that he would thus deform that person he would be guilty of mayhem. The physician immediately consulted with State's Attorney Deneen, who told him that in his opinion he would be guilty of no crime. The conflict of opinion is causing the doctor much worry. The two persons who will sell their ears as sacrifices to this operation are widely different, both in age and appearance. One of them, a paralytic nearly 60 years of age. The other applicant is a cripple, about 28 years of age.

THERE ARE OTHERS

Dr. Prescott Up to the Present Time Has Received Nearly a Dozen Offers.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—There is no dearth in Chicago of men who are willing to part with an ear for a cash consideration. Dr. Elmer E. Prescott, who advertised an offer of $300 each for a couple of ears which he wishes to graft upon a patient who lost his own in an accident, has received nearly a dozen answers. The task of making the selection is not by any means an easy one and in case Dr. Prescott is unable to get two suitable ears he will attempt to fashion those members from cuticle taken from the leg of a patient.

ALGER'S BOOK

Has Made Richard Harding Davis Mad and Davis Is After Harper & Bros., Publishers.

New York, Oct. 21.—Richard Harding Davis is after Harper & Brothers, and General Alger, whose book they published. Alger said in his book that some timid newspaper men accompanying General Wood and General Young became alarmed out of Santiago when the fighting began and scuttled to the rear to write an imaginary report. As Davis and Casper Whitney were the only men with Young and Wood, Davis calls on Alger to retract. He says the newspaper men shared every hardship and peril with the soldiers and received none of the public honors showered on the soldiers.

WILD WEST

Show Is Forced Into Winter Quarters Earlier Than Usual by the Railway Accident.

Danville, Va., Oct. 31.—Col. Wm. F. Cody's Wild West show will go into winter quarters prematurely as a result of the railroad accident in which his special train was involved near Lexington the other day. The wreck was disastrous to Colonel Cody's live stock. Of his ring horses, 110 were killed or so badly injured that it became necessary to shoot them. The bodies of the animals which represent an investment of nearly $50,000 were sold to a local tanner for 50 cents each. Among the horses killed was "Old Pap" the favorite mount of Colonel Cody.

KILBOURNE

HEARTILY RECEIVED WEDNESDAY NIGHT AT TOLEDO.

Crowds Listened to the Democratic Standard Bearer and Mr. Zimmerman, of Springfield.

Toledo, O., Oct. 31.—Toledo is a rival of Columbus in point of affection for Colonel James Kilbourne. He has the warm personal friendship of the citizens here irrespective of race, religion, or politics. It was as President of the ill-fated Ohio Centennial Commission that the foundation of these friendships were laid, and they have endured and grown since being warmly fastened during the period of storms and stress that ended in the abolition of the commission and the death of the centennial project.

Last night the Democracy of Toledo gave him a hearty and fervent welcome. There was no effort to drum up a crowd, there were no marching clubs, pyrotechnics or brass bands, and no organized clique was in attendance. Colonel Kilbourne is regarded as a stepson of Toledo, and has been here so often that these accessories were considered unnecessary. But two men met him at the depot, Judge David Cummager and Joseph L. Yost, and he was driven without any show to his hotel. No artificial nurtured reception was held, and the nominee went as quietly to Memorial Hall, where an attentive and earnest audience of 2,500 people had gathered to hear him and his companion, John L. Zimmerman of Springfield.

The striking features of Colonel Kilbourne's address were the arraignment of the state administration for the defeat of the centennial project and the preparations for a military expedition to Cincinnati in defiance of all decency and an insult to a peaceful and law-abiding community. The strong point in the address of Mr. Zimmerman was the quoting of Governor Bushnell to prove that reckless extravagance attends the conduct of the state penal and eleemosynary institutions.

He read from Governor Bushnell's first message to the General Assembly and recalled the famous defeat of economical administration by the favored contractors and political grafters of that day. He also cited figures in comparison to show that the waste in state institutions over those of a like character controlled by private individuals amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars annually.

The meeting at Memorial Hall was presided over by Joseph L. Yost, who introduced Colonel Kilbourne in a happy little address. The nominee was given a hearty greeting as he stepped forward in response. One noticeable character of the meeting that thrust itself out prominently was that the audience was composed almost entirely of men. But few boys and less than a dozen of the fair sex were present. In fact most of his meetings have been made up of the same elements.

EARL

AND MRS. SOMERVILLE ARE NOW MARRIED

ACCORDING TO THE LAW IN ENGLAND.

CEREMONY WAS VERY BRIEF.

Russel Says He Hopes Now That All Will Be Satisfied—Imprisonment Recalled.

London, Oct. 31.—The romance of Earl Russell and Mrs. Molly Somerville, of Nevada, reached a happy consummation at 10 o'clock this morning when the couple were married at the Holborn register office. The ceremony was brief. Mrs. Somerville was attired in a grey traveling dress. Immediately after the ceremony the couple drove off. Their destination is not known.

Before the ceremony Earl Russell declared: "I do this in order to be in conformity with the laws of my country, with a lady already my wife. The ceremony in no sense implies that the Nevada marriage was void. Now I hope everybody will be satisfied."

Earl Russell was previously married to Mrs. Somerville, in Nevada, believing that his divorce obtained in Nevada would hold good in England. He discovered his mistake when he arrived in Great Britain however, for he was arrested on a charge of bigamy, tried by the House of Lords and imprisoned for three months.

The Countess Russell, the Earl's former wife, several days ago was given an absolute divorce from her husband and the wedding today was accordingly legal in England.

Girl Injured.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 31.—Mary Fletcher, 17 years old, of 116 Millford street, while going home was assaulted Wednesday night about 8 o'clock by five men and is in a precarious condition. She could not give a complete description of the men but as a result Fred Pollock of 255 Birch street, has already been arrested. Where the assault occurred is in the very heart of the West Side.

TO FIND OUT

Whether or Not He Is Married John Weltner Has Brought Suit at Findlay.

Findlay, O., Oct. 31.—Because he doesn't know whether he is married or not John Weltner has brought suit in the Hancock county courts. He admits that in 1880 he married Ina Wallace, because she made him do it, and shortly after she became the mother of a child. They lived together three years, when, he says, she ran off with a tramp printer. A few months thereafter he obtained a divorce. Mrs. Weltner was gone two years and then returned, repentant and in tears. She pleaded so hard to be taken back that Weltner yielded, and for the past sixteen years they have been living together as husband and wife without remarriage. Another child came to them, and they have lived with more or less sunshine and storm all these years. Last week, however, Mrs. Weltner petitioned for a divorce on the grounds of cruelty. In his reply, filed yesterday, Weltner first asks for a divorce if he is married, on account of his wife's quarrelsome temperament; but the tenor of his plea is that the judge tell him if he be married or not.

Enjoyable Recital.

The autumn recital of Trinity Episcopal church, given by Mr. Charles Edwin Reynolds, organist, assisted by Arthur Kellogg, violin, Will Reynolds, baritone and cornet, and Frank Reynolds, trombone, at the church on Wednesday evening was a splendid success and is receiving eulogium today. There was a large and appreciative audience in attendance and every number on the program elicited the heartiest applause.

THEY BOTH DODGED.

Neither Nash Nor Hanna Had a Word to Say of State Affairs and Taxes.

In their speeches in opening the campaign at Delaware, both Governor Nash and Senator Hanna not only failed to say anything about state affairs and the notorious inequalities of taxation, but both declared that they did not intend to discuss these matters at all.

No intelligent voter can fail to understand why they are avoiding the discussion of these important and vital questions. They have no real interest or sympathy with the taxpaying masses of the state, and hence have no time to waste in discussing those things which most nearly concern the voters.

They and all the leaders of their party are in sympathy with the trusts, corporations and wealthy tax-dodgers, from whom they draw their enormous campaign funds, and are asking the people to "let them alone."

That they should be for the powerful against the weak; for the enormously wealthy against those in moderate circumstances; for the giant trusts against the consumers and individual interests, is not at all surprising.

Their policy is that of commercializing the politics of the state and nation, and they regard it as a personal affront for the masses of the people to appeal to them for relief from unjust and unequal taxation.

If the people, without regard to politics, want relief from their patent and just grievances, they must depend upon themselves and on their votes on Tuesday next. They must not come to the conclusion that the people of Ohio are no longer able to, or capable of deciding their own affairs.

This is the design and the desire of the leaders of the Republican party. They want the people to believe that money and power are irresistible in our popular election, and that it is treason for them to vote their own sentiments in opposition to the wishes and desires of the leaders.

It is the duty of every man in this county to go to the polls and cast his vote against the Republican ticket. If they will do so these arrogant leaders will quickly abandon their commercializing policies.

"THIS IS NO TIME TO BRING INTO THIS CONTEST ANY OF THESE OLD ISSUES OF STATE AFFAIRS, SUCH AS TAXATION."—SENATOR HANNA AT DELAWARE.

RARE ORATORICAL BIRDS.

Political stump oratory is a curious and interesting study. Statesmen, so-called at least, frequently have a strange method of presenting "arguments" to their hearers.

The oratorical birds are not only of strange feathers, but undergo moulting seasons and come out with new styles of plumage, and you know the bird by its size rather than his color.

Senator M. A. Hanna is a marked instance of this. Take, for instance, his first speech delivered in Springfield, and repeated at other points in which he said:

"I denounced Wm. J. Bryan in his own state as a liar, hypocrite, a demagogue and an anarchist. I insist that we shall have decency and avoid personalities in this political campaign, because of the great public sorrow, because of the foul assassination of President McKinley. I went to Nebraska and South Dakota last year for a couple of hides and I got 'em, and left the birds to pick the carcasses. Let us show our respect for our late beloved President by refusing to consider side issues about State affairs, and cast our votes against Kilbourne and anarchy."

And this passes for statesmanship and argument. In the days of Chase, Wade, Sherman, Thurman, Pugh and Pendleton, it would have passed for almost anything else.

YOUR VOTE ON TUESDAY NEXT WILL HELP TO MAKE SURE A DEMOCRATIC VICTORY. DO NOT FAIL TO CAST IT.

DEMOCRATS, DON'T LOSE THIS CHANCE FOR VICTORY

Democrats, you would not forgive yourselves, you men who desire the preservation of two great political parties in this country, if the Democracy came within a few thousands of carrying Ohio this fall and you know that you assisted in keeping this state out of the Democratic column, would you? We cannot force too strongly upon your notice the splendid chance Democracy has in this campaign. The desperate and frantic effort of the Republicans show that they are on the anxious seat. And well might they be when the superior personal popularity of the Democratic candidates from Governor down is considered. It is plain that if the Democrats of Ohio do their duty—if they go to the polls and influence their neighbors to do the same—Col. James Kilbourne will be Ohio's next Governor, and he will be the pride of his party in the State's capital.

American Coal in France. Washington, Oct. 31.—Consul General Skinner, at Marseilles, under date of Oct. 4, informs the state department of the ever-increasing success of American coal in the French market. During the first half of 1900, says Mr. Skinner, 457,752 tons of English coal arrived at Marseilles, as against 1,739 of American; from January to July of this year, however, the figures stood at 389,304 tons English and 97,622 tons American. The only disquieting element in this trade, Mr. Skinner says, is the necessity of employing foreign shipping for the transportation of American coal.

After Strike Leaders. Cardiff, Oct. 31.—The Coal Owners' association, in consequence of the unions stopping work last Friday and Saturday and threatening to stop on other days in order to keep up the price of coal and therefore wages under the sliding scale agreement, decided to prosecute the individual leaders. Accordingly the Federation of Miners of South Wales and Great Britain, representing 140,000 miners, who are affected, have called a meeting at which some counteraction will be taken.

Great Scheme, This.

As an evidence of the desperation to which the Republicans are driven and in the hope of keeping the Democratic voters away from the polls next Tuesday, an effort is being made at different points over the state to get Democrats to go to other towns remote from their voting precinct to "work."

A man has been in Newark for the past day or two trying to hire mechanics to go to Cambridge and to a point in a county north of Newark and he demanded that the men he hires shall go on Monday—the day before election. It was remarked today by a man who had interviewed several men who had been approached that the "employer" was after Democrats only. As soon as the Democratic workers learned of the effort to reduce the Democratic vote the men had been "hired" were told of the scheme and without exception all cancelled their agreement to accept the jobs until after the election.

Let every Democrat in Newark and Licking county stay at home and vote next Tuesday.

MISS WILSON

Who Died in Hebron Wednesday Morning Will Be Buried Friday at Cedar Hill.

Miss Kate Wilson, daughter of the late Stewart Wilson, died at her home in Hebron, Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. About nine months ago she was operated on for a tumor at her home in Hebron, a twelve pound tumor being removed, and she made rapid and satisfactory recovery. Some time during the past summer she was out riding when she was thrown from her buggy and seriously injured. One of her arms was injured and three ribs broken. About seven weeks ago she was taken sick and the doctors were unable to ascertain the trouble. After her death a post mortem examination was held which developed the fact that her body was filled with small tumors, caused, it is thought, from the injuries she received last summer. The funeral will take place from her late home Friday, and the interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery. Her father died about seven years ago. She leaves two brothers and two sisters to mourn her death. They are: Israel Wilson, of Granville; Orlando Wilson, who resides northeast of Newark; Mrs. Simpson, of Columbus, and Mrs. Patterson, who resides east of Newark.

Hog Shortage Next Year.

There will probably be a shortage of hogs next year, resulting from a shortage of feed, says Farm and Ranch. Prices are and have been good for some time, but next year must be much better, because of the scarcity. Production waits upon feed, and scarcity of feed has compelled swine growers to reduce their stock. He is fortunate who has enough ingenuity to pull through without reducing. No doubt this can be done in many cases where it is not done. There will be money in hogs next year or we are no prophet.

BREAD RIOT

In Which a Score Were Shot Down—Starving People Driven to Desperation.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 31.—News was received here that at Puruandiro, Michoacan, Mexico, on Oct. 28, a bread riot occurred in which 20 persons were wounded, many of them fatally. The cause of the riot is said to have been the action of speculators in cornering the supply of corn. A corn famine has existed in that section of Mexico for months, and the government recently removed the import duty on corn from the United States as a measure of relief. It is claimed that speculators cornered the shipments to Puruandiro and raised the price 100 per cent. The starving people, driven to desperation, attacked the warehouses, women and children leading. They were shot down by the guards.

The conditions in that section of the republic south of the City of Mexico are described as terrible. Puruandiro is about 50 miles from the railroad, and the last news from there was that the situation was critical and that more bloodshed was feared. The government has started troops to the scene.

Couple Fight a Duel.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 31.—Ethel Plumb, 2, is lying dead at home of her grandmother, Mrs. Parke of Virginia City, this state, as the result of a duel fought with revolvers by Mr. and Mrs. Plumb. Mrs. Plumb has a bullet wound in the hip, Mrs. Parke was shot through the right shoulder, and Mr. Plumb is in jail with a powder-burned face. Plumb and his wife have not lived happily together for a long time, and of late Mrs. Plumb has been living at the home of her mother, Mrs. Parke. Mr. Plumb went to the house and opened fire upon his wife, who obtained a revolver and also began shooting. At the first shot fired by the husband the child fell dead with a bullet through its head. The women will die.

Big Blaze at Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Seventy-five families lost their homes and $250,000 worth of property was destroyed in a fire that started in Peters & Company's picture frame factory at Union street and Austin avenue. Fanned by a strong wind the flames got beyond control, and spread to the small packing establishment of Feinberg & Stopp and a long row of residences adjoining. Two blocks of dwellings skirting Milwaukee avenue were wiped out before the fire was subdued. The Peterson factory, which, with contents, was valued at $175,000, fully insured, was destroyed. The bulk of the remainder of the loss was on residences.

A Former Ohioan. Hartford, Conn., Oct. 31.—It is not believed here that H. J. Grady, a prominent business man of this city, whose body was found in the harbor at Racine, Wis., committed suicide. He was a passenger on board the steamer from Chicago to Milwaukee, and the supposition is that he fell or jumped overboard into the harbor. His watch, money and papers were on his person when found. He was on his way from Chicago with a view of closing a deal for some Ohio oil lands. Mr. Grady came here from Wilmington, O., where he had been mayor of the city and at one time auditor of the county.

Mr. Clarke was on an inspecting tour and his private car was being drawn at high speed around a curve near Millington, when the engineer ran into a freight train standing on the track. The engine tore through the rear freight car, splitting it partly in half.

The SPORTING WORLD

Champion Woman Golfer. Miss Genevieve Hecker, the new woman champion of the United States Golf association, has won international reputation by reason of her accomplishments on the links. She has for several years held a prominent niche in feminine golfing circles, having won many minor championships at various times. Her recent victory in the national tourney, held on the famous Baltusrol course at Morristown, N. J., fulfilled predictions that she would one day corral the highest honors in her class.

Miss Hecker is only nineteen years old, but she is engaged to be married. She is the daughter of John V. Hecker, a millionaire flour manufacturer. Miss Hecker early developed a penchant for golf, and placed herself in the hands of the famous Scotch professional, George Stahl, who taught his apt and comely pupil all the tricks of the game, including his famous St. Andrew swing. The picturesque links at Wee Burn, Conn., have been her favorite course, and she twice won the Metropolitan championship.

Miss Hecker is a blond, has blue eyes and is very graceful. She is a thorough athlete and can ride, sail and swim almost as well as she can play golf.

The showing of the western golfers was a great surprise to the spectators at the tourney at Baltusrol. They played remarkable golf and barely missed carrying the coveted title away with them. Miss Anthony, the champion of the west, was slightly out of form, but Miss Lucy Herron, qualified for the finals and made Miss Hecker play her best.

Original Home of Golf.

The Scotsman contends that golf is a Scotch sport to which poetical reference was made in Adamson's "Muses Threnodie," published in Perth as long ago as 1678. The terms used in the sport are for the most part Scotch. But the Dutch assert that it was first played in Holland on the ice, and before 1688 the Dutch poet Bredero described how "the golfer, with ice spurs on, stands ready to smite with ashen club weighted with lead or his Scottish cleek of leaded box." But while this may be the earliest poetical reference to the game it does not show that Holland is the original home of golf. The reference to the "Scottish cleek" seems at first sight to point rather to Scotland.

Ruhlin Has a Temper.

Gus Ruhlin, the Akron giant, who is training to fight Jeffries, recently tried to knock out Tim Heggerty, the clever Australian featherweight, who was visiting his quarters. Madden induced Heggerty to put on the gloves with Ruhlin, and Heggerty landed some hot ones on Ruhlin's face and wind which made the big fellow angry. Then Ruhlin started in to punish his opponent and in the third round floored him twice. When time was called, he refused to stop, and a friend of Heggerty's, who interfered, was knocked down twice by the infuriated pugilist. Madden expressed sorrow for Ruhlin's act.

California Players For Brooklyn.

W. A. Lange of San Francisco has exhibited two signed contracts he had received from Ned Hanlon of the Brooklyn for two of the best players of the California league. Hanlon has his eyes set on Henry Krug of San Francisco and has instructed Lange to get Krug's signature to one of the contracts. The other player wanted by Hanlon is an outfielder, and he has determined that George Hildebrand will fill the bill. Lange will make an effort to engage these two players for the Brooklyn.

Ruhlin In Poor Form.

Report has it in Los Angeles that Gus Ruhlin has showed such poor form in his only public appearance in months that his prospects for winning the bout with Jeffries are counted light. Ruhlin boxed with Jim and Ben Trumble and was clumsy and slow. He was to have met "Denver Ed" Martin, but it was announced that that fighter had sprained his thumb. California sports say that Ruhlin "won't do" in a fight against Jeffries.

Crawford's Busy Bat.

Sam Crawford of the Cincinnati team has more home runs, two baggers and triplets to his credit than any other player. Crawford has fifteen home runs, twenty-three two baggers and five triplets to his credit.

STORY

ABOUT FURNITURE AND VARIOUS ARTICLES

Which Were to Have Been Given as Premiums Caused Agent to Do Big Business.

There is a pretty well authenticated story about the city to the effect that Newark people have suffered a similar experience to that of certain Coshocton people, as set forth in the following from the Age:

"There are a number of Coshocton ladies who seriously doubt the word of any man. A few months ago they believed the average man was truthful but they have lost faith in human nature, particularly if it is presented in clothes of stylish cut and fabric and is accompanied by manners that mark the polished gentleman. They have been deceived.

It happened this way. A well dressed young man of pleasing manners came to town with a smile wreathing his countenance and a portfolio under his arm. He talked well. So very well that he sold many sets of his pictures, well printed reproductions of world renowned works of art. The price was so low and he presented his claim for attention so earnestly and well that scores of persons were taken in. From the wash-tub to the parlor he found customers in every walk of life and he was happy. So were they—then.

These pictures came in numbers, a number to be delivered at stated intervals. When they had all been received by the customer and the money paid over he was to send each purchaser a leather couch, sideboard, set of china, or some other article of use in the household. This part of the agreement seemed a bargain, and the books sold rapidly. The books could not be secured at once, but must be sold on the installment plan, the premium to come when the pictures were all paid for.

The young man explained that the object of his principals was to sell the furniture and stated further that the sales would be made only to a limited number. The furniture, he demonstrated, was bought in enormous quantities which rendered its sale at a low price possible. When talking to some business men the young salesman said nothing about his premiums but sold his books on their merits. While canvassing he also found it convenient to use as a mode of introduction the names of parties who knew nothing of his plan beyond the unvarnished fact that he had pictures to sell.

The books came and the money was paid over. The ladies selected their premiums and waited. Leather couches seemed in great demand, but china and other articles were chosen, but nothing came. They are still waiting, and incidentally awakening to the fact that they have been taken in.

The ways of the agent are many and varied, but the ways of this particular one were winning and he won.

MESSAGE

Of General Buller Advising the Surrender of Ladysmith—An English Paper Produces It.

London, Oct. 31.—The National Review gives the essential terms of the dispatch of Sir Redvers Buller to General Sir George White, when in command of the beleaguered British garrison at Ladysmith. According to this authority the message ran as follows: "I have been repulsed. You will burn your ciphers and destroy all your ammunition. You will then make the best terms you can with the Boers after I have fortified myself on the Tugela." General Buller, in the speech which led to his dismissal from the command of the First army corps, challenged the National Review to publish the full dispatch and to explain how it was obtained, declaring that he would then publish a certified copy of the original and allow the public to judge the matter.

Town Burned.

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 31.—Twenty-three business houses, comprising the heart of the town of Timmonsville, were burned. There was an explosion in the store of Smith & Dennis that aroused the town, followed by flames bursting out. A keg of powder is supposed to have exploded. There was no apparatus for fighting the fire, and citizens were compelled to witness the destruction of their property without being able to stay the flames. One block of 10 brick stores, including the Bank of Timmonsville, is in the burned district. The loss is conservatively placed at $100,000.

Reign of Terror at Nome.

Passengers report that 500 men were left at Nome, all of whom are penniless, with no means of making a living during the winter, and a reign of terror is predicted. During the entire voyage of the Queen petty thefts were of daily occurrence.

Better Help the Routes.

(Communicated.)

The Utica Herald of October 17, came out in an article headed as above, in which it complains that the people of southeast of Utica were violently opposing the success of "Rural No. 4," and were working in the interest of the proposed route from St. Louisville. Now in answer, we will say that all those who are opposing Rural No. 4 are patrons of the post offices at St. Louisville and Purity. In the next place, in the establishing of Rural No. 4 it was in no way necessary to encroach on the St. Louisville patronage, as a good or better route could have been had for Rural No. 4 by keeping north of what is known as the Blacksnake road and extending further east, thereby serving the people who as the route now exists will be delivered from rural service entirely.

Then again, if Rural No. 4 as now established, should be allowed to exist, from fifty to seventy families east and northeast of St. Louisville will be debarred from free mail delivery from any source, whereby if Rural No. 4 would go where it of right belongs and the proposed route from St. Louisville be established, all the people on both routes could be served to the best possible advantage. As it is the patrons on Rural No. 4 can only be imperfectly served, and nearly every person on Rural No. 4 who lives in the St. Louisville patronage is dissatisfied with the route from Utica, and prefer the proposed route from St. Louisville.

Now, inasmuch as the Herald has presumed to give us advice in this matter, we would ask that it answer the following questions:

First—Give some good reason why we would be benefitted by changing our postoffice address from St. Louisville to Utica.

Second—Show us whereby we would be benefitted by Rural No. 4 from Utica, more than by the proposed route from St. Louisville.

Third—How are the people south and east of Rural No. 4 to be served?

Fourth—Having a good and efficient postmaster at St. Louisville, why should we rob his office of its rightful revenue when we receive no benefit thereby?

Fifth—Why should we encourage Rural No. 4 to the embarrassment of a route that suits "us" in every way better than No. 4?

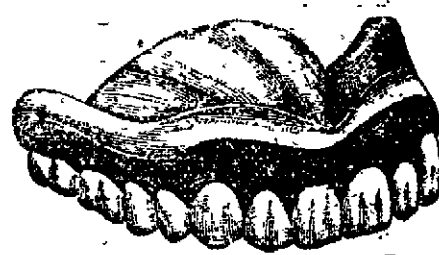

Sixth—Why should we encourage a thing although it might suit us personally, but would be a positive damage to our neighbor?

To all whom it may concern: We, the undersigned, who reside on or are adversely affected by rural free mail delivery Route No. 4 from Utica, O.

BEAT

His Wife Frightfully With a Table Leg and Ended His Life With Bullets.

Freemont, O., Oct. 31.—Five miles south of this city, at the home of Dan Aldrech, yesterday, Mrs. Aldrech was attacked by her husband, who beat her insensible, and her death is expected. Aldrech used a table leg and piled blow after blow. His daughter attempted to interfere and also sustained severe injuries. Not until a neighbor came did the husband desist and run to another room, where he ended his life with two shots through the heart. The unfortunate woman's scalp is cut in a dozen places, an arm broken, her skull is fractured and her body is a mass of bruises. The table leg was broken in three pieces. Miss Alice Aldrech, the fifteen-year-old daughter, would undoubtedly have received severe treatment had it not been for the timely arrival of Leroy Thompson, a neighbor, who heard the cries of the women. The cause of the tragedy is not known. It is claimed that Aldrech was a consumptive, and that ever since the death of a daughter last August has been very despondent and would threaten to take his life and that of his wife. Recently he began to drink some, and this led to family quarrels.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at Hall's Drug Store.

Powers at Rehearsal.

James T. Powers is one of the hardest working actors on the stage. Not satisfied with the few hours devoted to the performance nightly, early morning often finds him on the stage of Daly's theater rehearsing and perfecting his lines. The other morning Powers was singing to a dark theater filled with empty benches his song in "The Messenger Boy" called "Has Anybody Seen Our Cat?"

Daniel Frohman was engaged in going over a new manuscript and was annoyed at the plaintive sounds that came from below. The manager called his doorman and asked him whence came the noise and who was responsible for it.

"Why, it's Powers rehearsing by himself," answered the doorman. "Well, you go down and tell him that his cat has been found and if he doesn't stop crying about it during the daytime some one will be singing 'Has Anybody Seen Our Powers?'"

The Martyrdom of Lycurgus Bilthorpe

By Edward F. Younger.

Lycurgus Bilthorpe says that in the remote event that he should live a thousand years and retain all his faculties up to the moment of dissolution never again would he exert himself to accommodate a woman. Bilthorpe, ordinarily a mild mannered man and soft of speech, accompanied this announcement with weird and picturesque profanity and much pawing of the lambent atmosphere.

It all came about in this way: Mrs. Sawyer, who resides in an interior Illinois town, took advantage of a cheap excursion to pay a long deferred visit to the Bilthorpes and incidentally to have a casual look at some of the bargain sales. On the trip in the excursion train was crowded almost to suffocation, and Mrs. Sawyer feared she would have trouble getting a seat in the congested coaches on the return trip. This was the subject of two conversations at the Bilthorpe home, and it was finally suggested that Mr. Bilthorpe get to the station Monday noon as soon as the train was made up, pick out a good seat and hold it, pending the arrival of Mrs. Sawyer, who had some shopping to do.

Bilthorpe, always an obliging man, cast business affairs to the winds and was the first person through the gates. Swinging aboard the train, he selected a seat in the middle of the first car and awaited the coming of Mrs. Sawyer. Meanwhile the coaches filled rapidly with tired, cross people, and when all the seats had been pre-empted those who had failed to find accommodations forward began to surge back against the crowd still pouring in at the rear. First a large, palpitating lady who was perspiring like a porpoise and struggling under sundry parcels attempted to push her way into the seat beside Bilthorpe.

"Beg your pardon, madam, but this seat is taken," he said softly. "I see it is," she snorted, "taken by a little whipper-snapper who ought to be up there in the back instead of sitting among decent folks."

Then a red faced man attempted to push two gangly children into the seat, and when Bilthorpe expostulated the flaming faced individual invited him out on the platform, promising to adorn his countenance with a few choice adios and scrolls, just as a mark of his esteem.

Meanwhile the human torrent poured in, surging and roaring around the luckless man who was immolating himself upon the altar of good fellowship. He anxiously craned his neck in the hope of catching sight of Mrs. Sawyer, and, once or twice, when the angry passengers who wanted the seat threatened to demolish him, he loudly expressed the wish that "his wife would hurry up."

Finally the train started and Bilthorpe made a dash for the door. In the scramble to gain the coveted seat a number of passengers became entangled in a general scrimmage. Bilthorpe was punched in the ribs with an umbrella, his hat was knocked off and lost, his coat torn and his luckless body was the recipient of sundry surreptitious kicks and cuffs as he squirmed toward the door. Just as he reached the platform some one raised the cry of "Pickpocket!" A dozen pairs of rough hands reached for the struggling man, but he shook them off and plunged madly from the rapidly moving train, alighting face downward and plowing a furrow in the hard cinders with his nose.

When he had taken up a collection of himself and held an inventory he found that he was minus a hat, half his coat, a large section of epidermis; his watch was broken, also three expensive cigars, while his letters and other contents of his pockets were scattered pretty generally over the right of way.

He dragged himself home wearily and painfully, the object of many unkind remarks and suggestive glances by street car conductors and passengers. His wife promptly threw several spasms upon beholding her lord and master, and after a rapid fire outline of what she would have done under the circumstances and how much better she would have managed the whole business she fell to and proceeded to patch up her battered liege.

It was the following morning, as he lay in an atmosphere of camphor and flaxseed poultices, that Bilthorpe made his declaration never again to accommodate a woman, all of whom, he asserts, are as capricious as the wind. His wife removed the bandage from one of his ears and read to him the following message, written on a postal card and mailed at a station half way down the line:

My Dear Mrs. Bilthorpe—I will drop this at Streator, where we stop twenty minutes. Tell Mr. B. that I think he was real mean not to get down to the train and hold a seat for me as he had promised. However, I met some friends and found very nice accommodations in the third coach, so I shall forgive him. Will write you more fully as soon as I get home. I picked up some beautiful bargains. Lovingly, MRS. B.—Chicago Record-Herald.

AIM OF PORTO RICANS

Seek Admission to the Union as an Organized Territory.

DELEGATION NOW PAYING THE WAY.

Native Commercial Commissioner to Have an Interview With President Roosevelt—Repeal of Imports Also Devoutly Desired by the Inhabitants of Our West Indian Possession.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—The visit to the United States of the Porto Rican delegation of business men, who spent the day in Chicago, has a far greater significance than has appeared hitherto. Instead of coming to inspect the commercial methods of this country and incidentally to go on a little junketing trip to the pan American exposition, the Porto Ricans have come primarily to pave the way for the admission of their island, first as an organized territory, then as a state. The authority for this statement is Federico Degetau, the present commissioner from that island to the United States.

The delegation arrived in Chicago in the morning, visited the board of trade and the stock yards, was entertained at a banquet, and left on a train for St. Louis. Later a visit will be paid to Washington, where an interview with President Roosevelt will be had. The party includes three of the five native members of Porto Rico's native council and one member of the chamber of deputies, in addition to Commissioner Degetau. They will also appeal for the revocation of the imports upon Porto Rican tariffs.

Ugly Charges Against a Woman.

Barnstable, Mass., Oct. 31.—Miss Jane Toppin, who was arrested at Amherst, N. H., on suspicion of being connected with the alleged murder of Mrs. Mary Gibbs at Cataumet, was brought here and lodged in jail. Mrs. Gibbs' husband, Captain Irving F. Gibbs, who is captain of the coasting schooner Golden Ball, was away on that vessel at the time of his wife's death. On learning of it at a coast port he immediately returned home, and, although there had been up to that time no suspicion of foul play, Captain Gibbs placed the matter in the hands of District Attorney Fieldmes. The bodies of Mrs. Gordon and were exhumed and the stomachs were sent to Professor Wood of Harvard university, and as a result of his efforts Miss Toppin was arrested on suspicion of having poisoned the four members of the Gibbs family. The police assert that they have sufficient evidence to convict Miss Toppin.

Died Like Men.

Manila, Oct. 31.—Colonel Robe of the Ninth Infantry, in his official report of the Balangiga disaster, in regimental orders praises the magnificent heroism of the dead American soldiers. To the survivors he says: "Your splendid, courageous, defensive and aggressive warfare at Balangiga has gone into history as a rare achievement of your regiment. I am proud of you. To you and to those who fought and fell, the army is indebted for a superb demonstration of what the bravery of a few determined men may accomplish under most unequal and unfavorable circumstances."

Named His Child Czoigoz.

Topeka, Oct. 31.—At Centropolis, a small town in Franklin county, M. Bernheimer, a German farmer, named his infant son Leon Czoigoz, and was driven from the county by indignant citizens. Bernheimer sought a priest and asked him to christen his son. When the point in the ceremonies for the name to be given was reached, the priest indignantly refused to christen an infant with such a name, and administered a rebuke to the parents.

Bad Blood Over a Lawsuit.

Henderson, Ky., Oct. 31.—A murder and suicide occurred near the county poorhouse. Lucian Brown, in a fit of temporary insanity, shot and killed Ollie Allison and then committed suicide by shooting himself in the mouth. Allison was married but Brown was not. They were brothers-in-law, and the trouble is said to have come up over a lawsuit over which Brown brooded.

Ransom of Miss Stone.

Constantinople, Oct. 31.—Negotiations for the ransom of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the abducted American missionary, are progressing very satisfactorily, it is understood, but beyond this those having them in hand maintain absolute secrecy, as they are convinced that publicity would be detrimental to Miss Stone's interests and safety.

Candidate Died.

Denver, Oct. 31.—Warren C. Willits, 48, a prominent civil engineer, and candidate on the Republican ticket for county surveyor at the approaching election, died of heart disease. In 1883 he was appointed receiver of the United States land office, and later was government agent to compile the mortgage and loan indebtedness census.

Chasing Lukban.

Manila, Oct. 31.—Advises received here from Catabogan, capital of the island of Samar, say General Smith has reliable information regarding the whereabouts of the insurgent leader Lukban, who is being hard pressed. Small skirmishes take place daily. General Smith expects to clear the island of insurgents by Christmas.

MISS W. CHILDS-BLACKBURN, Secretary Rock Island Literary and Art Society.

With the close confinement at my desk brought on nervous prostration, so much so that for a year I doctored continually. I tried different remedies which only succeeded in poisoning my system, and my stomach refused food. A neighbor who had suffered with ovarian troubles and was perfectly cured, called my attention to your Vegetable Compound, and I made up my mind to give it a two months' fair trial. However, before one month had passed I was like a new woman, and after six weeks faithful use of the Compound I was in perfect health. It certainly is of great benefit to women, and I wish every poor suffering woman could have a chance to try it. Yours very truly, Miss W. DEATH

OF THE REV. DAVID JONES AT GRANVILLE.

Former Pastor of the Newark Welsh Congregational Church Passed Away Early Thursday Morning.

Granville, O., Oct. 31.—Rev. David Jones, one of the best known residents of Granville, died at his home on Maple street at two o'clock this morning, after a brief illness of pneumonia aged about 77 years. Mr. Jones was well known in Newark, where for a number of years he filled the pulpit of the Welsh Congregational church, in connection with his charge in Granville. He had been retired from the ministry for several years, however. He was a man who was universally esteemed by all who knew him, and his death will be sincerely mourned, not only by the immediate family, but by a large number of friends. He was in his usual health up to last Sunday, when he attended church, but on Monday he was taken sick with pneumonia, and rapidly grew worse, until the end. Besides the widow he leaves two children, Robert Jones, who is the postmaster at Sidney, O., and Miss Bessie, who resides at home. At this writing it is not known when the funeral will take place.

Tonight the young people will have a frolic such as is experienced but once a year by the youngsters. Frolic is Halloween, a night which, of course, the young people, and in many instances it is feared, some of their older brethren, to get out and carry off gates, throw corn, pull cabbages, and a thousand and one other things for no reason they can assign other than that it has been a custom ever since their earliest recollections. Wednesday night a large number of the young people of the village were out having a good time. A number of the boys, however, became so excited that they lost all control of themselves and began destroying property. This resulted in the arrest of one of the boys. He was lodged in the village "bustle," where he remained all night. Several extra officers will be put on duty tonight and arrests will follow in every case where property is destroyed or interfered with.

Quite a number of the young ladies of the Berean college, chartered by Miss Messenger, left for Huron, Ohio, this morning, to attend the State convention of the Young Women's Christian Association. Among those in the party were, Miss Messenger, and the Messrs. Morgan, Childs, Sheng, Zimmernann, Beattie, Meggison.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry King of Columbus who have been visiting here for the past week, left for their home this morning.

Fattening Turkeys.

By all means fatten your turkeys. Do not send them to market half fat, as so many do, says J. C. Clipp in National Stockman. You can have your turkeys in fine market condition with but little extra trouble. Get them up about ten days before you expect to market them and confine them to a small yard. To fatten them quickly we find no better ration than sweet potatoes and cornmeal. One can use the small and unsalable potatoes in this way to great advantage. Cook them and just before removing them from the fire add the cornmeal, feeding the mess when it is cold, two pounds of meal to one peck of potatoes. If the mess is mixed with skim milk, instead of water, it will produce a superior flavor. Do not fail to give plenty of fresh water and feed four times per day. Gut should always be placed where the turkeys can have free access to it.

Potash Fertilizers.

Waldo F. Brown writes for The Weekly Gazette, Cincinnati, that the office of potash as plant food is to help form the starch, and such crops as corn and potatoes, which contain large amount of starch, need more potash than those that have but little starch. Light, sandy and peaty soils need it more than clayey soils. The muriate gives a good quality of potatoes on light soils, but on heavy clay the sulphate produces the better quality. If used freely on garden crops, it should not come in direct contact with the seed, as it may prove too caustic, but the amount in the fertilizers usually sown with wheat will do no damage.

ALL SNAKES TO BE BANISHED WHEN BRIDE OF BURNETT

Takes Possession of His House—The Wedding Is Scheduled for Thursday Afternoon.

New York, Oct. 31.—When a man marries he casts off more or less odd habits of his bachelorhood and bids fond farewell to many fads and fancies. New prospective bridegrooms find it in the line of their duty, however, to relinquish the "snake habit," as does Harold Livingston Burnett, whose wedding to Miss Cornelia Cary Hull is announced for this afternoon.

As an amateur snake charmer and collector of reptiles Mr. Burnett acquired something of an uncanny fame in Brooklyn. His pets were caged in the Livingston street house, when they weren't temporarily absent, to the terror of the neighborhood.

They were gathered from all parts of the world and represented every sort of scaly crawler, from the harmless garter to the venomous rattler and the python. Now and then one of them would manage to stray from the precincts where it was housed, and then there was a pall of fear on Livingston street.

That Miss Hull should choose to share her fiancé's lack of dread for the reptiles, even if she did not participate in his interest in them, was the wonder of her friends. But she won't have to bother about that. There will not be a single solitary snake in the house. Burnett has given them up and taken to horses.

"I gave up my pets," he said, "when I met Miss Hull. I will never have them any more. I have had the snakes ever since boyhood. Miss Hull is fond of horses, and they will now become my hobby. I have now six thoroughbreds in my stable.

"Our engagement" was very short, as neither of us believes in long engagements.

State of Ohio vs. Max McCann; indicted for larceny, arraigned, plea not guilty. Philipps; James.

A REPUTATION.

How it Was Made and Retained in Newark.

A good reputation is not easily earned, and it was only by hard, consistent work among our citizens that Doan's Kidney Pills won their way to the proud distinction attained in this locality. The public endorsement of scores of Newark residents has rendered invaluable service to the community. Read what this citizen says:

Mr. C. L. Wines, 295 Elm st., says: "I had more or less trouble with my kidneys. I need not dwell on the symptoms. It is enough to say that I suffered, was nearly helpless and could get nothing to help until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton Bros. drug store. I happened to read in one of the local papers something pertaining to them. I went there and obtained some. I was much surprised at the quickness of the relief they gave me and I have told lots of other people about them."

May 31. In answering a question about the retrograde movement Schley suggested that the matter had already been covered. Admiral Ramsay remarked that three or four explanations for the movement had been made and he wanted to know which was the principal one. In view of this there seems to be a probability that the court will criticize to some extent the retrograde movement and possibly, the reconnaissance and the movements of the flying squadron off Cienfuegos.

It is believed, however, that the court will take into consideration the difficulties that beset Schley, the decisive part played by his flagship in the battle and that the result will be in effect a vindication.

Lemly and Raynor then began another sparring match when Sigbee was recalled. Lemly evidently intended to try to get new testimony out of Sigbee, but Reynor blocked his game by saying that such procedure would make the case interminable. Raynor supported his argument saying: "This best be settled at once. This has been a prosecution in form I mean. I don't refer to what has been done here. My brother (Lemly) has been fair in everything, fair and square."

"Will you please say that louder?" said Hanna, significantly.

"What?"

"Why, that last part." There was general laughter.

SCHLEY'S REPORT SUPPRESSED.

New York, Oct. 31.—The Journal this morning makes public for the first time Schley's original report of the battle of Santiago, never before published, in which Schley makes no mention of Sampson's ship, the New York, being in the engagement. This report was sent to Sampson, who asked Schley to add mention of the New York's part in the engagement. Schley did not do so and the report was suppressed.

Washington, Oct. 31.—In the court of inquiry the cross-examination of Admiral Schley was concluded when Admiral Dewey propounded to the applicant a number of questions prepared by the members of the court. These questions touched many points of the campaign of the flying squadron, but mainly centered about the difficulties encountered in coaling and the reasons for the retrograde movement. Not one of them related to the battle of Santiago. The judge advocate's cross-examination covered the retrograde movement, the reconnaissance of May 31, the loop of the Brooklyn and the alleged colloquy with Lieutenant Hodgson about the Texas. Admiral Schley in the course of the examination declared the famous loop of the Brooklyn decided the events of the battle of Santiago bay.

One of the most interesting features was the development of the fact that the report of the battle written by Admiral Schley July 6, 1898, was not the original report. The original report never has been published, and in accordance with a previous decision the court declined it to go into the records. Admiral Schley was allowed to explain, however, that Admiral Sampson declined to receive the first report because it did not mention the presence of the New York. "I felt that the victory at that time," said Admiral Schley, in explaining the matter, "was big enough for all, and I made this change out of generosity and because I knew if the New York had been present she would have done as good work as anybody else."

Captain Thomas Borden of the marine corps, who was aboard the Brooklyn, will be the last witness called for Admiral Schley. After he testifies the judge advocate will put on the stand the witnesses in rebuttal, of whom there are understood to be about 15, and it is probable that Admiral Schley's counsel will call several witnesses in rebuttal.

The suppressed preliminary report made by Admiral Schley is dated off Santiago, July 3, and addressed to Admiral Sampson, the commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic station. The report in substance describes the coming of the Spanish fleet from the harbor of Santiago, and calls attention to the fact that signals were made to the vessels of the American fleet which were obeyed by all the ships. It then proceeds to describe the fight, and gives briefly the part played in it by each one of the ships, showing that the Brooklyn, the Oregon, the Texas and the Iowa remained in action until the Vizcaya went ashore, and that the Colon surrendered to the Brooklyn and the Oregon. The admiral commends the bravery of all the American officers and crews engaged in the fight, and recommends the commanding officers for gallant and meritorious conduct and for the superb handling of their ships. Then follows some routine matter giving the Spanish losses, the injuries to the American fleet and the casualties. It then asks that Admiral Sampson have the commanding officers transmit to him (Admiral Schley) their detailed accounts of the action, in order that he might write a full and complete official report of the battle.

WEST VIRGINIA MINES

Efforts to Place Them on Equal Basis With Other States.

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE NOW ON.

Mine Workers' Officials Propose a Uniform Scale of Wages and Will Strive to Organize the Men in Both Virginia and Other Competitive Fields.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 31.—A conference is in progress here between representatives of the United Mine Workers of America, of different state organizations and of the organized and unorganized miners of the two Virginias. A similar conference was held at Parkersburg last month, and on the report of the conference at that time President Mitchell has called the present meeting to devise plans by which the miners in these two states can be organized into state unions and made auxiliary to the United Mine Workers of America, the same as in other coal-producing states. State officers from Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and other coal-producing states are here to co-operate with President Mitchell, Vice President Lewis, Secretary-Treasurer Wilson and other national officers in a final effort to organize the miners of Virginia and West Virginia.

The convention will propose a uniform scale of wages on a basis equal with that of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Pennsylvania, and other competitive fields. West Virginia has never had even a formulated scale. Several attempts have been made to affect a scale, but always without success, and some of those present are doubtful as to the success of the present conference in that respect.

While the call for the meeting includes the miners of both Virginias, it is understood that the main efforts at the present conference will be directed toward the mines of West Virginia first and then the organization will be extended to the Old Dominion. The output of West Virginia has become so enormous as to seriously conflict with other states, especially with Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and West Pennsylvania, where there is very little difference in the haul. It is held that the operators in other states claim that they can not pay the union scale in competition with the lower rate of the nonunion mines in West Virginia, and the conference will appeal to the Virginia miners for the protection of the union mines in other states. The operators of West Virginia are also represented here and are appealing to their men against interference from labor leaders in other states.

Suits to Enjoin Taxes.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 31.—Attorneys representing 20 of the principal life insurance companies in the United States which do business in Kentucky filed as many suits in the Franklin circuit court, seeking to restrain the state board of valuation and assessments from assessing or attempting to collect from them franchise taxes alleged to be due for the years 1892 and 1901. They were required to give indemnity bonds for the full amount due from each.

Charge Against a Doctor.

Swego, Kan., Oct. 31.—Dr. C. C. Calhoun was brought to this city from Mott and Valley and lodged in jail, charged with the murder of his 18-year-old wife, who died suddenly. A post-mortem examination showed that Mrs. Calhoun had died from a criminal operation. Her life was insured for several thousand dollars.

Jimmy Ryan Knocked Out.

Louisville, Oct. 31.—"Australasian" Jimmy Ryan was knocked out in the second round of a 20-round contest at Music hall by Jack Root of Chicago. The fight was for the middleweight championship of the west, and Root was a decided favorite. Ryan, who has but one eye, forced the fighting, but Root blocked him throughout and in the first round had him at his mercy, and hammered him on the blind side continually. Ryan forced things through the first half of the second round till Root landed twice on his chin, when Ryan began to stagger. Then Root saw his man going, and landed a left swing on the point of the chin and Ryan fell.

Bone In Her Throat.

Minneapolis, Oct. 31.—Mary B. Livingston died during an operation for the removal of a bone from her throat. Miss Livingston attended a party, and while partaking of a lunch a small bone lodged in her throat. It was found that the bone had worked its way into the tissues and Miss Livingston suffered great pain. Miss Livingston was 35 years old and resided with a sister. She was a niece of David Livingstone, the famous African explorer.

Deputy Shot by a Negro.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 31.—Near the show grounds at Rutherford, N. C., Deputy Sheriff Butler was probably fatally shot in the head by Bud Logan, a drunken negro, who, with a negro companion, had been abusing white men and had knocked down four of them. The negroes had out pistols and the deputy attempted to take them, when Logan fired. They were soon captured and are in jail. Should Deputy Butler die a lynching is likely.

Fatal Fall of Carpenters.

WIVES

MUST PAY THEIR HUSBANDS BILLS

According to an Illinois Law Which Has Just Been Applied in New York State.

New York, Oct. 31.—According to a decision handed down yesterday by Judge McAdam, in the Appellate Division of the Supreme court, a wife is responsible for her husband's debts, if contracted in Illinois.

The parties in the case are George W. Matthews, fashionable tailor of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Colonel John T. Dickinson. The former sued the Colonel for $100 balance of a bill of $150 for a Tuxedo coat, dress vest and a black coat. On a former trial in the District Court a verdict was given against the tailor.

He appealed through his attorney, Henry L. Maxson. The latter told the Court that the Dickinsons were living at the Metropole Hotel, Chicago, when the Colonel got the clothes in 1894.

"When I was retained in the case," said Mr. Maxson, "I confess I could not see how an action would lie against Mrs. Dickinson for money owed by her husband, especially when I was told that she was not with him when he ordered the garments, and at no time guaranteed the payment of the bill. But I was assured by my client that it was common in Chicago to sue a wife for her husband's debt, and on investigation I found a peculiar law on the statute books of Illinois which provided that the expenses of the family and of the education of the children shall be chargeable upon the property of both husband and wife, or of either of them, in favor of creditors thereof, and they may be sued jointly or separately."

Judge McAdam says the contract for the clothes was made in Illinois and must follow the Illinois law quoted, and Illinois courts have construed it to apply to tailor bills contracted by the husband. The judgment is reversed and a new trial ordered.

STREET CAR

Was the Festal Hall in Which Wedding Was Performed, With Passengers as Guests.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 31.—Charles Ashcraft, the motorman on a line that operates street cars at intervals between Louisville and Highland Park, was surprised when a country couple asked him if he would get a magistrate for them. Ashcraft answered that his line was an accommodation and that he would try to get a magistrate if they would tell him what they wanted. They informed him that they wanted to get married. Ashcraft told them that if they would go to Highland Park he would get a preacher who could tie the knot just as well. The license having already been obtained. Arriving at Highland Park the motorman hunted up Rev. Mr. Sanders, of the Baptist church. The minister went to the car, in which, with the other four passengers for witnesses, best man, bridesmaids, flower girls, ushers and the entire wedding party, the ceremony was performed. The motorman reserved the privilege of giving the bride away.

The couple were J. M. Kidwell, of Pendleton station, Oldham county, who has been married before and has grandchildren, and Lucy Wilson, who has never been married. They claim the distinction of being the first couple married in a car station.

PROPOSED ELECTRIC LINE.

As telegraphed to the Advocate from Coshocton Wednesday, the council of Coshocton has granted a franchise for 25 years to the Newark, Zanesville and Coshocton Street Railway company. An informal meeting of those interested in the proposed road was held here Wednesday night. Postmaster J. M. Ickes being one of those present. This road, it is believed, will be a connecting link in the Everett-Moore's across the state line.

Engineer Green, of Cleveland, has gone over the route from Coshocton to Wheeling and the survey will be made as soon as the necessary arrangements are complete.

"No I cannot marry you," said the beautiful maiden. "Of course not," replied the cheerful youth. "We'll let the minister do that."

TWO VALUES.

HERE are two values to every purchase—what it costs and what it pays you. Cork costs 8 cents a pound, but if you are drowning half a mile from shore, its value would be "not what you pay for cork, but what cork saves you." When a woman buys soaps she often confuses the two values. She sees only what she pays. She overlooks what she receives. Now a single cake of Ivory Soap pays back from ten to twenty times its cost in the saving it effects. Test it yourself! Vegetable Oil Soap. Ivory white. It floats!

It is believed his destination is the island of Mitylene or Salonika. The island commands the entrance to the Dardanelles and the Gulf of Smyrna.

They told the president that Governor Hunt's administration was improving the situation on the island.

Redmond's Party Arrives.

How Evans Got His Nickname.

Most persons have an idea that Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans acquired his nickname of "Fighting Bob" from some gallant service in the navy. A naval officer, who was a cadet at Annapolis when Evans became a cadet, tells this story of how he was christened: Along in 1859 and 1860 there was a saloon keeper named Robert D. Evans, who continually got drunk. Every time this happened, and it was several times a week, five or six policemen had to be called to carry the drunken chap to jail, and he was dubbed "Fighting Bob." So the minute a cadet appeared bearing the name of R. D. Evans the nickname was applied to him also. Brother officers of the now rear admiral say that he got the luckiest nickname on record.

Fattening Turkeys.

By all means fatten your turkeys. Do not send them to market half fat, as so many do, says J. C. Clipp in National Stockman. You can have your turkeys in fine market condition with but little extra trouble. Get them up about ten days before you expect to market them and confine them to a small yard. To fatten them quickly we find no better ration than sweet potatoes and cornmeal. One can use the small and unsalable potatoes in this way to great advantage. Cook them and just before removing them from the fire add the cornmeal, feeding the mess when it is cold, two pounds of meal to one peck of potatoes. If the mess is mixed with skim milk, instead of water, it will produce a superior flavor. Do not fail to give plenty of fresh water and feed four times per day. Grit should always be placed where the turkeys can have free access to it.

Potash Fertilizers.

Waldo F. Brown writes for The Weekly Gazette, Cincinnati, that the office of potash as plant food is to help form the starch, and such crops as corn and potatoes, which contain large amount of starch, need more potash than those that have but little starch. Light, sandy and peaty soils need it more than clayey soils. The muriate gives a good quality of potatoes on light soils, but on heavy clay the sulphate produces the better quality. If used freely on garden crops, it should not come in direct contact with the seed, as it may prove too caustic, but the amount in the fertilizers usually sown with wheat will do no damage.

Stebenville—Thomas Duke and Stella M. Hought, and James McGurten and Florence Cox, who live somewhere in Columbiana county, and who came here and secured marriage licenses, will be surprised to learn that their recent marriages are regarded as illegal by Probate Judge Kerr, who so informed Justices A. G. McKensie, and W. P. Haney of Wellsville last night. Neither Justice had jurisdiction to marry on a license granted in this county, which they did. The only way out of the awkward dilemma is for the couples to be remarried by some one empowered to do so in this county.

ALL SNAKES

TO BE BANISHED WHEN BRIDE OF BURNETT

New York, Oct. 31.—When a man marries he casts off more or less odd habits of his bachelorhood and bids food farewell to many fads and fancies. New prospective bridegrooms find it in the line of their duty, however, to relinquish the "snake habit," as does Harold Livingston Burnett, whose wedding to Miss Cornelia Cary Hull is announced for this afternoon. As an amateur snake charmer and collector of reptiles Mr. Burnett acquired something of an uncanny fame in Brooklyn. His pets were caged in the Livingston street house, when they weren't temporarily absent, to the terror of the neighborhood.

They were gathered from all parts of the world and represented every sort of scaly crawler, from the harmless garter to the venomous rattler and the python. Now and then one of them would manage to stray from the precincts where it was housed, and then there was a pall of fear on Livingston street.

That Miss Hull should choose to share her fiance's lack of dread for the reptiles, even if she did not participate in his interest in them, was the wonder of her friends. But she won't have to bother about that. There will not be a single solitary snake in the house. Burnett has given them up and taken to horses.

"I gave up my pets," he said, "when I met Miss Hull. I will never have them any more. I have had the snakes ever since boyhood. Miss Hull is fond of horses, and they will now become my hobby. I have now six thoroughbreds in my stable. "Our engagement was very short, as neither of us believes in long engagements.

A REPUTATION.

How it Was Made and Retained in Newark.

A good reputation is not easily earned, and it was only by hard, consistent work among our citizens that Doan's Kidney Pills won their way to the proud distinction attained in this locality. The public endorsement of scores of Newark residents has rendered invaluable service to the community. Read what this citizen says:

Mr. C. L. Wines, 295 Elm st., says: "I had more or less trouble with my kidneys. I need not dwell on the symptoms. It is enough to say that I suffered, was nearly helpless and could get nothing to help until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton Bros.' drug store. I happened to read in one of the local papers something pertaining to them. I went there and obtained some. I was much surprised at the quickness of the relief they gave me and I have told lots of other people about them."

May 31. In answering a question about the retrograde movement Schley suggested that the matter had already been covered. Admiral Ramsay remarked that three or four explanations for the movement had been made and he wanted to know which was the principal one. In view of this there seems to be a probability that the court will criticize to some extent the retrograde movement and possibly, the reconnaissance and the movements of the flying squadron off Cienfuegos. It is believed, however, that the court will take into consideration the difficulties that beset Schley, the decisive part played by his flagship in the battle and that the result will be in effect a vindication.

Lemly and Raynor then began another sparring match when Sigsbee was recalled. Lemly evidently intended to try to get new testimony out of Sigsbee, but Reynor blocked his game by saying that such procedure would make the case interminable. Raynor supported his argument saying: "This best be settled at once. This has been a prosecution in form I mean. I don't refer to what has been done here. My brother (Lemly) has been fair in everything, fair and square."

"Will you please say that louder?" said Hanna, significantly.

"What?"

"Why, that last part." There was general laughter.

SCHLEY'S REPORT SUPPRESSED.

New York, Oct. 31.—The Journal this morning makes public for the first time Schley's original report of the battle of Santiago, never before published, in which Schley makes no mention of Sampson's ship, the New York, being in the engagement. This report was sent to Sampson, who asked Schley to add mention of the New York's part in the engagement. Schley did not do so and the report was suppressed.

Washington, Oct. 31.—In the court of inquiry the cross-examination of Admiral Schley was concluded when Admiral Dewey propounded to the applicant a number of questions prepared by the members of the court. These questions touched many points of the campaign of the flying squadron, but mainly centered about the difficulties encountered in coaling and the reasons for the retrograde movement. Not one of them related to the battle of Santiago. The judge advocate's cross-examination covered the retrograde movement, the reconnaissance of May 31, the loop of the Brooklyn and the alleged colloquy with Lieutenant Hodgson about the Texas. Admiral Schley in the course of the examination declared the famous loop of the Brooklyn decided the events of the battle of Santiago bay.

One of the most interesting features was the development of the fact that the report of the battle written by Admiral Schley July 6, 1898, was not the original report. The original report never has been published, and in accordance with a previous decision the court declined it to go into the records. Admiral Schley was allowed to explain, however, that Admiral Sampson declined to receive the first report because it did not mention the presence of the New York. "I felt that the victory at that time," said Admiral Schley, in explaining the matter, "was big enough for all, and I made this change out of generosity and because I knew if the New York had been present she would have done as good work as anybody else."

Captain Thomas Borden of the marine corps, who was aboard the Brooklyn, will be the last witness called for Admiral Schley. After he testifies the judge advocate will put on the stand the witnesses in rebuttal, of whom there are understood to be about 15, and it is probable that Admiral Schley's counsel will call several witnesses in rebuttal.

The suppressed preliminary report made by Admiral Schley is dated off Santiago, July 3, and addressed to Admiral Sampson, the commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic station. The report in substance describes the coming of the Spanish fleet from the harbor of Santiago, and calls attention to the fact that signals were made to the vessels of the American fleet which were obeyed by all the ships. It then proceeds to describe the fight, and gives briefly the part played in it by each one of the ships, showing that the Brooklyn, the Oregon, the Texas and the Iowa remained in action until the Vizcaya went ashore, and that the Colon surrendered to the Brooklyn and the Oregon. The admiral commends the bravery of all the American officers and crews engaged in the fight, and recommends the commanding officers for gallant and meritorious conduct and for the superb handling of their ships. Then follows some routine matter giving the Spanish losses, the injuries to the American fleet and the casualties. It then asks that Admiral Sampson have the commanding officers transmit to him (Admiral Schley) their detailed accounts of the action, in order that he might write a full and complete official report of the battle.

WEST VIRGINIA MINES

Efforts to Place Them on Equal Basis With Other States.

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE NOW ON.

Mine Workers' Officials Propose a Uniform Scale of Wages and Will Strive to Organize the Men in Both Virginia and West Virginia.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 31.—A conference is in progress here between representatives of the United Mine Workers of America, of different state organizations and of the organized and unorganized miners of the two Virginias. A similar conference was held at Parkersburg last month, and on the report of the conference at that time President Mitchell has called the present meeting to devise plans by which the miners in these two states can be organized into state unions and made auxiliary to the United Mine Workers of America, the same as in other coal-producing states. State officers from Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and other coal-producing states are here to co-operate with President Mitchell, Vice President Lewis, Secretary-Treasurer Wilson and other national officers in a final effort to organize the miners of Virginia and West Virginia.

The convention will propose a uniform scale of wages on a basis equal with that of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Pennsylvania, and other competitive fields. West Virginia has never had even a formulated scale. Several attempts have been made to affect a scale, but always without success, and some of those present are doubtful as to the success of the present conference in that respect.

While the call for the meeting includes the miners of both Virginias, it is understood that the main efforts at the present conference will be directed toward the mines of West Virginia first and then the organization will be extended to the Old Dominion. The output of West Virginia has become so enormous as to seriously conflict with other states, especially with Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and west Pennsylvania, where there is very little difference in the haul. It is held that the operators in other states claim that they can not pay the union scale in competition with the lower rate of the nonunion mines in West Virginia, and the conference will appeal to the Virginia miners for the protection of the union mines in other states. The operators of West Virginia are also represented here and are appealing to their men against interference from labor leaders in other states.

Suits to Enjoin Taxes.
Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 31.—Attorneys representing 20 of the principal life insurance companies in the United States which do business in Kentucky filed as many suits in the Franklin circuit court, seeking to restrain the state board of valuation and assessments from assessing or attempting to collect from them franchise taxes alleged to be due for the years 1892 and 1891. They were required to give indemnity bonds for the full amount due from each.

Charge Against a Doctor.
Oswego, Kan., Oct. 31.—Dr. C. C. Calhoun was brought to this city from Mound Valley and lodged in jail, charged with the murder of his 18-year-old wife, who died suddenly. A post-mortem examination showed that Mrs. Calhoun had died from a criminal operation. Her life was insured for several thousand dollars.

Jimmy Ryan Knocked Out.
Louisville, Oct. 31.—"Australian" Jimmy Ryan was knocked out in the second round of a 20-round contest at Music hall by Jack Root of Chicago. The fight was for the middleweight championship of the west, and Root was a decided favorite. Ryan, who has but one eye, forced the fighting, but Root blocked him throughout and in the first round had him at his mercy, and hammered him on the blind side continually. Ryan, forced things through the first half of the second round till Root landed twice on his chin, when Ryan began to stagger. Then Root saw his man going, and landed a left swing on the point of the chin and Ryan fell.

Bone in Her Throat.
Minneapolis, Oct. 31.—Mary B. Livingston died during an operation for the removal of a bone from her throat. Miss Livingston attended a party, and while partaking of a lunch a small bone lodged in her throat. It was found that the bone had worked its way into the tissues and Miss Livingston suffered great pain. Miss Livingston was 35 years old and resided with a sister. She was a niece of David Livingston, the famous African explorer.

Deputy Shot by a Negro.
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 31.—Near the show grounds at Rutherford, N. C., Deputy Sheriff Butler was probably fatally shot in the head by Bud Logan, a drunken negro, who, with a negro companion, had been abusing white men and had knocked down four of them. The negroes had out pistols and the deputy attempted to take them, when Logan fired. They were soon captured and are in jail. Should Deputy Butler die a lynching is likely.

Fatal Fall of Carpenters.
Elyria, O., Oct. 31.—J. A. McDonald and Joseph Kolb, carpenters, at work on the new Catholic schoolhouse here, were killed. A scaffold upon which they were at work broke, and they fell 40 feet, striking on some stones.

Miss Sadie Tarlton, who has been suffering with a severe attack of typhoid fever for some days, is now reported as recovering.

Della, the 14 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Westbrook died on October 23, after an illness of several weeks. Della was a bright and interesting girl. Cut down like a rose in the bloom, God came and plucked and took her to his mansions, where flowers bloom and never die. Rev. Mr. Miller, of Newark, officiating. Burial was made at Rocky Fork cemetery. The oldest sister Bessie, is very poorly at this writing. Her many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Here is a picture of an interesting group of royal personages. The youngest in the sailor suit standing directly in front of King Edward is the eldest son of the Duke of Cornwall and York and is in direct line of succession to the throne of England. For two weeks past these children have been eagerly anticipating the return of their royal papa and mamma, whom they have not seen for many months.

One of the most interesting municipal campaigns of this year is undoubtedly that in New York. Shepard, a prominent Brooklyn lawyer, who has been active in past years as a reformer.

WIVES

MUST PAY THEIR HUSBANDS' BILLS

According to an Illinois Law Which Has Just Been Applied in New York State.

New York, Oct. 31.—According to a decision handed down yesterday by Judge McAdam, in the Appellate Division of the Supreme court, a wife is responsible for her husband's debts. If contracted in Illinois.

The parties in the case are George W. Matthews, fashionable tailor of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Colonel John T. Dickinson. The former sued the Colonel for $100 balance of a bill of $150 for a Tuxedo coat, dress vest and a black coat. On a former trial in the District Court a verdict was given against the tailor.

He appealed through his attorney, Henry L. Maxson. The latter told the Court that the Dickinsons were living at the Metropole Hotel, Chicago, when the Colonel got the clothes in 1894.

"When I was retained in the case," said Mr. Maxson, "I confess I could not see how an action would lie against Mrs. Dickinson for money owed by her husband, especially when I was told that she was not with him when he ordered the garments, and at no time guaranteed the payment of the bill. But I was assured by my client that it was common in Chicago to sue a wife for her husband's debt, and on investigation I found a peculiar law on the statute books of Illinois taken from the Iowa statute which provided that the expenses of the family and of the education of the children shall be chargeable upon the property of both husband and wife, or of either of them, in favor of creditors thereof, and they may be sued jointly or separately."

Judge McAdam says the contract for the clothes was made in Illinois and must follow the Illinois law quoted, and Illinois courts have construed it to apply to tailor bills contracted by the husband. The judgment is reversed and a new trial ordered.

STREET CAR

Was the Festal Hall in Which Wedding Was Performed, With Passengers as Guests.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 31.—Charles Ashcraft, the motorman on a line that operates street cars at intervals between Louisville and Highland Park, was surprised when a country couple asked him if he would get a magistrate for them. Ashcraft answered that his line was an accommodation and that he would try to get a magistrate if they would tell him what they wanted. They informed him that they wanted to get married. Ashcraft told them that if they would go to Highland Park he would get a preacher who could tie the knot just as well, the license having already been obtained. Arriving at Highland Park the motorman hunted up Rev. Mr. Sanders, of the Baptist church. The minister went to the car, in which, with the other four passengers for witnesses, best man, bridesmaids, flower girls, ushers and the entire wedding party, the ceremony was performed. The motorman reserved the privilege of giving the bride away.

The couple were J. M. Kidwell, of Pendleton station, Oldham county, who has been married before and has grandchildren, and Lucy Wilson, who has never been married. They claim the distinction of being the first couple married in a car station.

PROPOSED ELECTRIC LINE.

As telegraphed to the Advocate from Coshocton Wednesday, the council of Coshocton has granted a franchise for 25 years to the Newark, Zanesville and Coshocton Street Railway company. An informal meeting of those interested in the proposed road was held here Wednesday night. Postmaster J. M. Ickes being one of those present. This road, it is believed, will be a connecting link in the Everett-Moore's across the state line.

Engineer Green, of Cleveland, has gone over the route from Coshocton to Wheeling and the survey will be made as soon as the necessary arrangements are complete.

"No I cannot marry you," said the beautiful maiden. "Of course not," replied the cheerful youth. "We'll let the minister do that."

TWO VALUES.

HERE are two values to every purchase—what it costs and what it pays you. Cork costs 8 cents a pound, but if you are drowning half a mile from shore, its value would be "not what you pay for cork, but what cork saves you." When a woman buys soaps she often confuses the two values. She sees only what she pays. She overlooks what she receives. Now a single cake of Ivory Soap pays back from ten to twenty times its cost in the saving it effects. Test it yourself! Vegetable Oil Soap. Ivory white. It floats!

SQUADRON

Carrying French Flag Sails for Levant to Bluff Turk—May Seize Custom House.

Toulon, Oct. 31.—The entire French Mediterranean squadron left this port. While one division put in at Salinas d'Hieres, another, composed of three battleships and two cruisers, under the command of Admiral Caillaud, proceeded to the Levant. Two thousand troops will be added to this force. Admiral Caillaud's orders are that, if complete satisfaction is not immediately given by the Ottoman government to all the claims of France, he shall seize the custom house of the port nearest a squadron. It is believed his destination is the island of Mitylene or Salonika. The island commands the entrance to the Dardanelles and the Gulf of Smyrna.

Mr. Rivera told the president that he and his party would do all in their power to support and co-operate with Governor Hunt. They told the president that Governor Hunt's administration was improving the situation on the island.

Redmond's Party Arrives.
New York, Oct. 31.—On board the White Star line steamer Majestic, which arrived from Liverpool and Queenstown, were John F. Redmond, Patrick A. McHugh and Thomas O'Donnell, the Nationalist members of parliament, who are on a visit to this country in behalf of the Irish cause. When seen Mr. Redmond had nothing to say except that he had had a pleasant trip and was feeling very well.

Colombian Conspiracy.
New York, Oct. 31.—Cable advices from Colombia received in this city announce the discovery of a conspiracy against the government, in which the minister of war, General Pedro Nel Ospina, is implicated. General Ospina has been deposed and is imprisoned in the Panopticon military jail of Bogota. Senor Jose Vicente Coucha has been appointed minister of war in his place.

How Evans Got His Nickname.
Most persons have an idea that Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans acquired his nickname of "Fighting Bob" from some gallant service in the navy. A naval officer, who was a cadet at Annapolis when Evans became a cadet, tells this story of how he was christened, relates a New York Tribune contributor: Along in 1859 and 1860 there was a saloon keeper named Robert D. Evans, who continually got drunk. Every time this happened, and it was several times a week, five or six policemen had to be called to carry the drunken chap to jail, and he was dubbed "Fighting Bob." So the minute a cadet appeared bearing the name of R. D. Evans the nickname was applied to him also. Brother officers of the now rear admiral say that he got the luckiest nickname on record.
